I, You, We

Pronouns
1st / 2nd person
Low	Honorific	Meaning	Usage
나	저	I	Proper
너	Title + 씨, 님	You (Singular)	Proper
니			Real Life
너희	여러분	You (Plural)	Proper
너희들
너네
너네들
니들			Real Life
니네
니네들
우리	저희	We	Proper
우리들	저희들

들 after the noun indicates plurality (= s & es in Eng)

When it's obvious that it's a plural, we can drop 들, and it sounds more natural than saying it.

Although both are grammatically correct,

너희는 학생이야 is more natural than 너희는 학생들이야

우리는 친구야 is more natural than 우리는 친구들이야

• 나는 남자야 - I am a man

• 너는 여자야 - You are a woman

• 너희는 학생이야 (pronounced 너희)

• 너희들은 학생이야

• 너네는 학생이야 - You guys are students

• 너네들은 학생이야

• 니들 니네 니네들은 학생이야

 니들, 너네(들), 니네(들) is more conversational than 너희 or 너희들

• 여러분은 사장님입니다 - You are business owners

 여러 (Many) + 분 (Honorific for 명, counter word for people) = Many 분

 사장 CEO + 님 (honorific)

• 우리는 친구야 - We are friends

• 저희는 부부입니다 - We are a married couple

• 저희는 부부예요

3rd person Pronouns in Korean

이, 저, 그 + Person

- Pronouns typically follow 이, 저, 그 + Noun format
 - This + person / That + thing / These + people
- Pronouns in Korean are gender-neutral
- But it's important to distinguish people from things
 - It's rude to address people by things (= 것)
 - > This is my boss (X)
 - > This person is my boss (O)

She, He, They

Pronouns PEOPLE
Low	Neutral	Honorific	Meaning	Usage
애 재 개	이,저,그 +Noun	이 분 저 분 그 분	She / He Gender Neutral
애네(들) / 애들	이,저,그 + Noun	이 분들	They (These people)
재네(들) / 재들		저 분들	They (Those people)
개네(들) / 개들		그 분들
그녀			She	Only in Books
그			He
이들 저들 그들			They

- 애는 제 친구예요 – This (He/she) is my friend
 - 재는 제 남동생이에요 – That (He) is my younger brother
 - 개는 제 여동생이에요 – That (She) is my younger sister
 - 애네는 제 자식(들)입니다 – These (They) are my kids
 - 재들은 내 아들(들)이야 – Those (They) are my sons
 - 개네들은 제 딸(들)이에요 – Those (They) are my daughters
-  Interchangeable, but 애네들 or 애네 is more proper

- 이 분들은 제 동료(들)입니다. – These (They) are my colleagues
- 저 분들은 여러분의 고객(들)이에요. Those (They) are your clients
- 그 분들은 내 손님(들)이야 – Those (They) are my guests

들 after the noun indicates plurality (= s & es in Eng)

들 is required in 분들 to clearly indicate the plurality.

- 이 분 (Singular) vs 이 분들 (Plural)

그녀, 그 are gender-specific but they are mainly used in books and lyrics and sound poetic

 녀 (여) is a Sino-Korean word for woman

이들, 저들, 그들 are not common IRL either.

아니(not) + 이다 (be) = 아니다

아니다 - To be not
Formality	Speech Level		Present Declarative
Informal	존댓말	High	아니예요
	반말	Low	아니야
Formal	존댓말	High	아닙니다
	Neutral	Low	아니다

_____은/는 _____이/가 아니다

이 사람은 제 친구가 아니예요

This person is not my friend

- 아니다 is conjugated the same way as 이다
- 이/가 is another particle used for the subject in a sentence
- 은/는 & 이/가 is notorious for being one of the most difficult concepts to understand even for advanced learners

은/는 & 이/가

은는 이가 Usage #1

Word	Corresponding Syllable	Topic Marker	Subject Marker
사람	람 ◻ 받침	사람은	사람이
친구	구 No 받침	친구는	친구가

- 은/는 & 이/가 are particles for subject
 - 은/는 are called topic markers
 - 이/가 are called subject markers

이 사람은 제 친구가 아니예요

This person is not my friend

- Any Suffix with silent letter ◦ [은 & 이] is for words with 받침
- Any Suffix with non-silent letter [는 & 가] is for words with no 받침

APPLIES TO NOT ONLY PARTICLES, BUT ALSO VERBS (Branch, Leaf)

은/는 & 이/가

Let's establish Terminology

- 은/는 marks the TOPIC of the sentence - Also called Topic Particle
- 이/가 marks the SUBJECT of the VERB - Also called Subject Particle
- 은/는 & 이/가 both can be particles for subjects in a sentence (=Subject particles) meaning, but they mark different ideas
- We're going to call
 - 은/는 : Topic Marker
 - 이/가 : Subject Marker

은 / 는

WHY TOPIC MARKER?

ABOUT THIS PERSON

NOT MY FRIEND

이 사람은 제 친구가 아니에요

(As for) This person is not my friend

- 은/는 Indicates the TOPIC of the sentence
 - Not 100%, but similar to [As for] & [When it comes to]

Corresponds to what it's about

은 / 는

PLACES EMPHASIS ON THE RIGHT

ABOUT THIS PERSON

NOT MY FRIEND

이 사람은 제 친구가 아니에요

(As for) This person is not my friend

- 은/는 places emphasis on [THE FACT THAT HE IS NOT MY FRIEND]

이 / 가

WHY SUBJECT MARKER?

← WHO IS HE NOT?

이 사람은 제 친구가 아니에요

This person (is someone who) is not my friend

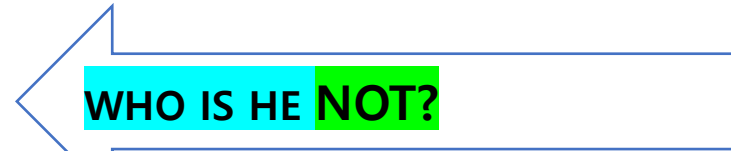

- 이/가 indicates the SUBJECT of the VERB [Who, What, Which]
Not 100%, but similar to [Be the one that]

Corresponds to the subject of the verb

Who this person is NOT? = My friend 제 친구

이 / 가

PLACES EMPHASIS ON THE LEFT

이 사람은 제 친구가 아니에요

This person (is someone who) is not my friend

- 이/가 places emphasis on [WHO, WHAT, WHICH] it is that is not my friend

은/는 VS 이/가

- 은/는 and 이/가 respond to different questions

3 main uses of 은/는

1. Stating General Facts

- 사과는 맛있어요 – Apples are tasty
- As for apples, they're tasty

2. Introduces a new topic to the conversation

- If the topic is obvious, no need to repeat “아미라는”
- When it's a new topic like “토티”, is required

3. Showing contrast

사과는 맛있어요 + [하지만 포도가 맛있어요] – Apples are tasty + [but the grapes are bad]

Depending on the context, 은/는 could imply other fruits are not as good

은 / 는 abbreviation

Topic marker

는 turns into ㄴ 받침 and merges with the word

- 나는 → 난
- 너는 → 넌
- 이것은 → 이거는 → 이거
- 여기는 → 여기
- 엄마는 → 엄마

이 / 가 abbreviation

 - 내가 했어 - I'm the one who did it
- 저 → 제 = 제가 not 저가
 - 제가 한국 사람입니다 - I'm the one who is Korean
- 너 → 네 = 네가 not 너가 pronounced 니가 (to avoid confusion with 내가)
 - 네가 했어 - You're the one who did it

Honorifics of Subject Particles

Honorifics of 은는 & 이가
Particle	Honorific	Role
이/가	께서	Subject Marker
은/는	께서는 (께서)	Topic marker

- Just like pronouns and verbs, not all but some particles have honorific versions
- 받침 is irrelevant for께서 and께서는
- 께서는 is often shortened to께서
- Not required if you use an honorific verb

- 선생님이 → 선생님께서 : Teacher _____
- 아버지는 → 아버지께서는 : Father _____

I like cats
